

It's empty inside
the surly faggot in the Calvin Klein underwear ad, but his face
sneaks volumes,
reminding you,
not of your own, but
some other
out in the air that anyone can walk through
and briefly admit.